

ROAD DIRECTIONS

KASANE TO SAVUTI

Taking the western route you have a choice of ways to start. if you're in a hurry, or starting late in the day, then drive from Kasane on the tar road. Later you'll reach Kachikau, which is marked on some maps as Kachekabwe. You'll be able to buy a limited range of drinks and foodstuffs at the shops here if you need them. After Kachikau the sand starts to get deeper.

Continuing straight across the cut-line later you'll reach the Ghoha entrance gate As you enter chobe you'll see the Ghoha Hills on your left in the distance – the first set of hills. A few kilometer's later you'll pass the first of the hills, which is dotted with baobab trees.

the road inside the park is generally less sandy and better than that which is outside. About 25km after the entrance gate you'll pass (sharp-angle) right turn which leads to savuti airstrip, and a couple of kilometer's further on you'll reach the main savuti area and look for the entrance to the savuti Public campsite.

MAUN TO SAVUTI

From Maun head south and drive straight on the road to a village called shorobe, which is about 45 mins drive. From shorobe, the gravel road starts, and you will come to a village called sankoyo. Drive until you reach Mawana Gate. After the Mawana Gate, proceed to Mababe Village and later on you will reach the Mababe Gate.

From the Mababe Gate, enter the chobe national Park and use the sandridge road/Marsh road, however this depends with the season of travel. therefore ask at the Gate the recommended road. After 3 hours on either of the roads, you will enter main savuti area and look for the entrance to the savuti Public campsite.

SAVUTI TO LINYANTI

The main road to use is the savuti Depression road, which has a deep sand stretch of 6km. The distance to Linyanti to savuti is approximately 2 hour

CAMP LINYANTI
THE LAST HIDDEN EDEN OF THE CHOBE

ROAD DIRECTIONS

KASANE TO SAVUTI

Taking the western route you have a choice of ways to start. If you're in a hurry, or starting late in the day, then drive from Kasane on the tar road. Later you'll reach Kachikau, which is marked on some maps as Kachekabwe. You'll be able to buy a limited range of drinks and foodstuffs at the shops here if you need them. After Kachikau the sand starts to get deeper.

Continuing straight across the cut-line later you'll reach the Ghoha entrance gate. As you enter Chobe you'll see the Ghoha Hills on your left in the distance – the first set of hills. A few kilometers later you'll pass the first of the hills, which is dotted with baobab trees. The road inside the park is generally less sandy and better than that which is outside. About 25km after the entrance gate you'll pass (sharp-angle) right turn which leads to Savuti airstrip, and a couple of kilometers further on you'll reach the main Savuti area and look for the entrance to the Savuti Public Campsite.

MAUN TO SAVUTI

From Maun head south and drive straight on the road to a village called Shorobe, which is about 45 mins drive. From Shorobe, the gravel road starts, and you will come to a village called Sankoyo. Drive until you reach Mawana Gate. After the Mawana Gate, proceed to Mababe Village and later on you will reach the Mababe Gate.

From the Mababe Gate, enter the Chobe National Park and use the Sandridge road/Marsh Road, however this depends with the season of travel. Therefore ask at the Gate the recommended road. After 3 hours on either of the roads, you will enter main Savuti area and look for the entrance to the Savuti Public Campsite.